Start by noting your children's names beside each of the Core levels which could apply to the child based on the "usually used by" age/grade span. Once this is complete, you should be able to see which children might work together in a study group. Next, begin to fill in the information in the chart above to see how the progression of Core programs would flow in future years.

Print multiple copies if you need to compare different grouping options or Core progressions to find what will work most comfortably. Note: Children do not need to stay in the same study group perpetually. A middle child can start out working with an older child and later shift to work with a younger sibling.
